

Connecticut Higher Ed Roundtable for Information Security (CHERIS)

Advisory Council Charge

Connecticut Higher Education Roundtable on Information Security (CHERIS) is a forum of Higher Education IT security professionals that meets quarterly to collaborate on IT solutions, discuss best practices, and share security challenges. CHERIS was founded in 2012 by UConn and Quinnipiac University. In 2022, after years of inactivity and at the request of CCSU, ECSU, and Wesleyan, CEN re-chartered and re-started the roundtable and committed to providing administrative support to the co-chairs on a go forward basis, as well as help sustain the co-chair roles over time.

Group Charge and Purpose

- Provide leadership and insight for the development and sharing of information security challenges and solutions.
- Provide thought leadership on how to develop an informed and technically sound community of practitioners.
- Serve as the primary source for higher-ed infosec and/or cybersecurity content, awareness, and engagement.
- Help identify, advocate, and aggregate the professional development needs of the CHERIS community.
- Ensure committee programming is aligned with member, state, and/or federal goals and objectives.
- Where possible and practicable, physically host and/or facilitate workshops and formal classes.
- Share resources, tools, and techniques to advance infosec and cybersecurity objectives set by the group.
- Help document the group's activities for insertion into reporting activities such as the CEN Annual Report.
